

Imagination – July 2014

July 1. Imagination is more important than knowledge. For knowledge is limited to all we now know and understand, while imagination embraces the entire world, and all there ever will be to know and understand.

Albert Einstein

July 2. The future belongs to those who believe in the beauty of their dreams.

Eleanor Roosevelt

July 3. My imagination makes me human and makes me a fool; it gives me all the world and exiles me from it.

Ursula K. Le Guin

July 4. Imagination is everything. It is the preview of life's coming attractions.

Einstein

Albert

July 5. If you want to build a ship, don't drum up the men to gather wood, divide the work, and give orders. Instead, teach them to yearn for the vast and endless sea.

Antoine de Saint Exupery

July 6. Think left and think right and think low and think high. Oh, the things you can think up if only you try!

Dr. Seuss (Theodor Geisel)

July 7. One of the virtues of being very young is that you don't let the facts get in the way of your imagination.

Sam Levenson

July 8. Our imagination is the only limit to what we can hope to have in the future.

Charles F. Kettering

July 9. Every great advance in science has issued from a new audacity of imagination.

John Dewey

July 10. Everything you can imagine is real.

Pablo Picasso

July 11. We are what we imagine ourselves to be.

Kurt Vonnegut

July 12. What is now proved was once imagined.

William Blake

July 13. You can't depend on your judgment when your imagination is out of focus.

Mark Twain

July 14. Man's mind, once stretched by a new idea, never regains its original dimensions.
Oliver Wendell Holmes, Jr

July 15. The imagination is never governed, it is always the ruling and divine power.
John Ruskin

July 16. Imagination grows by exercise, and contrary to common belief, is more powerful in the mature than in the young. W. Somerset Maugham

July 17. Imagination is not a talent of some men, but is the health of every man.
Ralph Waldo Emerson

July 18. Imagination is the beginning of creation. You imagine what you desire; you will what you imagine; and at last you create what you will.
George Bernard Shaw

July 19. The problems of the world cannot possibly be solved by skeptics or cynics whose horizons are limited by the obvious realities. We need men who can dream of things that never were.
John F. Kennedy

July 20. Imagination will often carry us to worlds that never were, but without it we go nowhere.
Carl Sagan

July 21. Trust that little voice in your head that says "Wouldn't it be interesting if..." And then do it.
Duane Michals,

July 22. Imagination has given us the steam engine, the telephone, the talking-machine, and the automobile, for these things had to be dreamed of before they became realities.
L. Frank Baum

July 23. Logic will get you from A to B. Imagination will take you everywhere.
Albert Einstein

July 24. Imagination is the highest kite one can fly. Lauren Bacall

July 25. You can't do it unless you can imagine it. George Lucas

July 26. Perhaps imagination is only intelligence having fun.
George Scialabba

July 27. We are all of us imaginative in some form or other, for images are the brood of desire.

George Eliot, Middlemarch

July 28. To invent, you need a good imagination and a pile of junk

Thomas Edison

July 29. The most imaginative people are the most credulous, for them everything is possible.

Alexander Chase

July 30. A rock pile ceases to be a rock pile the moment a single man contemplates it, bearing within him the image of a cathedral.

Antoine de Saint-Exupéry

July 31. A relationship with our imagination is a relationship with our deepest self.

Pat B.Allen
