

November quotes – Service

November 1. The best way to find yourself is to lose yourself in the service to others. Mahatma Gandhi

November 2. Everybody can be great---because anybody can serve. You don't have to have a college degree to serve. You don't have to make your subject and verb agree to serve. You only need a heart full of grace. A soul generated by love. Martin Luther King, Jr.

November 3. You are what you do, not what you say you'll do. C.G. Jung

November 4. One of the great ironies of life is this: He or she who serves almost always benefits more than he or she who is served. Gordon B. Hinkley

November 5. I slept and dreamt that life was joy. I awoke and saw that life was service. I acted and behold, service was joy. Rabindranath Tagore

November 6. The first question which the priest and the Levite asked was: 'If I stop to help this man, what will happen to me?' But...the good Samaritan reversed the question: 'If I do not stop to help this man, what will happen to him?' Martin Luther King, Jr.

November 7. Love is not patronizing and charity isn't about pity, it is about love. Charity and love are the same – with charity you give love, so don't just give money but reach out your hand instead. Mother Teresa

November 8. Remember that yours is not the only heart that may be wishing for love. Cameron Dokey

November 9. I don't know what your destiny will be, but one thing I know; the only ones among you who will be really happy are those who have sought and found how to serve. Albert Schweitzer

November 10. Relationships are never about power, and one way to avoid the will to power is to choose to limit oneself – to serve. Wm. Paul Young

November 11. Miss no single opportunity of making some small sacrifice, here by a smiling look, there by a kindly word; always doing the smallest right and doing it all for love.
Thérèse de Lisieux

November 12. Service is the rent we pay for being. It is the very purpose of life, and not something you do in your spare time. Marian Wright Edelman

November 13. Service which is rendered without joy helps neither the servant nor the served. But all other pleasures and possessions pale into nothingness before service which is rendered in a spirit of joy.
Mahatma Gandhi

November 14. Your own self-realization is the greatest service you can render the world.
Ramana Maharshi

November 15. Helping, fixing, and serving represent three different ways of seeing life. When you help, you see life as weak. When you fix, you see life as broken. When you serve you see life as whole. Fixing and helping may be the work of the ego, and service is the work of the soul.
Rachel Naomi Remen

November 16. Those who are happiest are those who do the most for others.
Booker T. Washington

November 17. The quality of your life is directly proportional to the positive effect you have on others' lives.
Chris Matakas

November 18. If you cannot serve your wife or husband or child or parent – how are you going to serve society? If you cannot make your own child happy, how do you expect to make anyone else happy? If all our friends in the peace movement or of service communities of any kind do not love and help each other, whom can we love and help?
Thich Nhat Hanh

November 19. The interior joy we feel when we have done a good deed is the nourishment the soul requires.
Albert Schweitzer

November 20. The fearful seek to serve themselves by mastering the world, while the fearless seek to serve the world by mastering themselves.
Eric Micha'el Leventhal

November 21. Love comes into being through useful service to others.
Emanuel Swedenborg

November 22. When we serve, we see the unborn wholeness in others; we collaborate with it and strengthen it. Others may then be able to see their wholeness for themselves for the first time.
Rachel Naomi Remen

November 23. As long as there are ways we can serve, then we have a job to do.
Marianne Williamson

November 24. To give real service you must add something which cannot be bought or measured with money, and that is sincerity and integrity.
Douglas Adams

November 25. That service is the noblest which is rendered for its own sake.
Mahatma Gandhi

November 26. May your heart open. May joy emerge. May love flow through you. May you heal and help others.
Charlene Costanzo

November 27. Lose yourself in generous service and every day can be a most unusual day, a triumphant day, an abundantly rewarding day!
William Arthur Ward

November 28. Appreciating those that serve in areas that you're not interested in is something we should all strive for. Some of us will save the oceans, others the homeless, and others will save the rest of the things we don't have time for.
Shannon L. Alder

November 29. Let us choose life and love, and happily use our selves up in loving service to one another.
Doris Haddock

November 30. Being a good example is the best form of service.
